Total time meditation: 53min

Monsanloran here: thank you for being here all together. This place was once an ancient sanctuary and is still a holy mountain where the ancient Mayas could communicate with people from other material planets and with the Maya Cosmic Masters - their Celestial Teachers and Guides under the guidance of the Melchizedeks which they were able to see as "wandering lights". They then went with this received knowledge to the surrounding villages to teach people. This place is linked to Caracol, Lamanai, Lubaantun and Uxbenka.

All this ended during the 7th century AD and in some places even earlier. As you know, there was always a battle on this planet between the law of the Universal Father and Lucifer. The Celestial Beings have made great efforts to bring back the population of your quarantined world to The Father.

When Christ Michael came here 2,000 years ago as Jesus he officially made an end to the Lucifer rebellion that lasted 200,000 years, but subsequently there was still much to do.

About 1,000 years ago a person was born in Mexico near the Gulf of Mexico; he was tall, white and had blond hair. His parents were descendants of the Toltecs who's ancestors were the Andites that came in the region with their leader Ionas 13 000 years ago. From a very young age he showed special abilities which allowed him to speak with Celestial Beings.

I followed him during a long time and he received the ancient knowledge Ionas had taught. He had to flee his native region because evil forces attracted him into a trap, but promised to return. He was known under the name of Quetzalcoatl by the Aztecs (Mexico City area) and as Kukulcan by the Maya people (Yucatán region in Mexico).

Many missionaries from Europe were intrigued by his life story and tried to let him pass for Jesus, because the religious beliefs of Kukulcán were very similar to what Jesus told 2,000 years ago. Due to these similarities Maya's accepted very easily Christian faith.

According to the ancients the year 2012 was the year of the 'return of the spirit of Kukulcan' and as promised.....he is here.

He will help to bring all Maya people together, to recover their lands peacefully in the coming years, to teach them to speak in one language and be one nation, so that they can find their beliefs and culture of origin back which were similar to what Adam and Eve had taught 35,000 years ago as well as the 'supra-human staff' of the planetary Prince Caligastia 500,000 years ago before they joined the rebellion.

(He spoke to B-Maya below)

However, this knowledge must be rendered by those of their own people.

This knowledge never disappeared and this region you call Belize is still one of the most sacred locations of Maya country. The Itza and the Cosmic Masters have never left these places and this was said to you during your meditations.

One day you will be able to tell in a soft and quiet way to your people that "the spirit of Kukulcan is back among the Mayab" after we have let you know that you can talk freely.

You have already received proof yesterday of the reunification efforts and you'll see that everything will go much faster as you might think, but wait to speak freely when your time is there.

I want to thank everyone for being here in this holy place. You've been to Lamanai, Lubantuun and Uxbenka and now you are here.

UXBENKA

In antiquity, this region has been invaded by people who loved to make human sacrifices. Kukulcan got many enemies when he abolished human sacrifice. There has always been a great battle between evil and the Light of Christ.

However, no human sacrifices ever took place on this holy mountain, but when evil popped up in the other buried temple nearby where we created last year a Light Anchor through you, the fallen priests started again with what they always loved to do: human sacrifices. Darkness has never sought a heart filled with love; it prefers to keep the bloody heart in his hands of the sacrificed man.

When Kukulcan had to run away from the former region of the Toltecs, he fled to Yucatan (Mexico) and also came to these places during his travels where he taught the Maya. He initiated a movement similar to a priesthood whose members possessed high knowledge. Their descendants or initiated still exist; they were and still are highly skilled and will show themselves again to the outside world.

They now live in Yucatan and Chiapas (Mexico) as well as in Guatemala. When their time comes they will meet and they will meet in Belize because Maya people of Belize can live in peace and aren't hunted anymore as before, which still happens sometimes in Guatemala and Mexico.

I'll let you go home now and when your time comes, the "spirit of Kukulcan" will speak to you. Thank you for coming and bringing your energies to receive the hidden knowledge from this place. Goodbye and have a save return.

END.
